Dear Stuart:

To begin with the pleasantries of life, we returned to Little Rock intact after a wonderful few days in the sun, fishing and what-not. Saw the MARCH into Montgomery Ala. with some interest. DOCTOR King is a phoney, but will die a martyr, I'm sure. After being held up a while during the march, we left for Texas, quite unimpressed with both the performance of the march itself and the idea behind it.

To the unpleasanties: I have received some statements from the American Airlines re. the AirTravel card which I asked some many months ago that you return to me. I'm referring now to the Air Travel card and not the Phillip's gasoline card which I gave you permission to use. At the same time I had asked you to return the travel card, I made the same request of your Mother and Peter and Suzie. None of these cards has been returned, but there are charges against them now which I must pay.

I will continue to pay these charges, but will deduct their totals against whatever allowance you have. Furthermore, and this seems to be the wish of your mother, on the date, June 30, 1965, I expect you to send me your credit card for the gasoline, namely the Phillips Co. card.

This seems to be a cruddy way of approaching a problem, but on my end of the deal and from my point of view, it is the only solution to what has become a very embarrassing problem to me caused by my "creditors," be they you or them.

I would appreciate immediate action to my request, surely you can realize its importance.

Hope you are well and enjoying a fine Easter vacation, and have found it possible to make the trip on your own resourses. I'm sure that it doesn't take too much imagination for a guy with the literary major you've selected to realize my disgust with this entire procedure.

Love

Dad
