Dearest Stu -

We arrived home day before yesterday to find a telegram from Peter and Jasmin to pick them up at Love Field yesterday (Fri) at 9:25 a.m. so Helen and I drove over and got them. Peter was sick with the Montezuma's revenge but Jazzy was her usual bubbly self. Last night I had Helen, Pops, Caro, Bob + Ray, Emmy + Sally, Evie and Fred for chadupas. It was fun but Ma is dead. Peter + Jazzy asleep in your room, N.D. in ours so have been cleaning up the mess and writing letters. I expected to have a letter from Sigiz but no - also none from Scott who promised to write home immediately. I'm not worried about Sigiz but concerned.

N.D. and I found your note but cannot figure out how you got in the house. Am so anxious to hear from you, your apartment, how school etc. I saw Pamela yesterday + she gave me some printed announcements + the art show. How about that?

Now let me tell you about the wedding. We had a beautiful non-stop flight to Kennedy airport. Then into the helicopter over New York city landing first at Wall Street and on to La Guardia. It was exciting but rather frightening. I felt close enough to reach out and grab the Statue of Liberty torch. It was hotter than the hinges of hell in N.Y.

We caught Mahawk airlines landing in Utica at 4:30 p.m. Peter, Curt and Jazz were there to meet us. She is a cutie half of fire. Her family is wonderful. Brother John, the doctor has a darling wife Patty who begged me constantly to have Suzie's address. They want to get her a date and have her over to dinner. There were doctors and nurses driving up to Clinton to the wedding & they could not see why Suz & Scott could not make up too. I don't god for N. D. who handled everything beautifully. Clinton is a very enchanting place - very New England. We stayed at the Alexander Ham,ilton Inn - very quaint & beautiful. Jasmine house is over 100 years old - white, dark green shutters - beautiful trees etc. Dr. flew in on Friday with the most god-awful beard - these guys are really wild. Jazz's young brother Laurie is an Ensign in the navy and had to leave the night of the rehearsal dinner far sea. The wedding was lovely - very sweet & we'll done. We left Sunday for Buffalo where we stayed at the Statler Hilton. Rented a car & drove to Little Valley to see N. D.'s mother. She is a charming old lady and N. D. looks much like her. The next day we drove to Niagara Falls for dinner - most beaut. food & impressive.

All in all it was a lovely trip only marred by my concern for Sister. N.D. says I must till Peter today in order to keep the Philadelphia relatives off her back. It is all a big, bad, dream but there is nothing to do but see it thru.

Well my darling, W R, T -

Love you -

Mama -
