Well, I am so long winded & need more room. Stu, I really would like the 1849 rifle but don't pay more than 50[¢]. This is a high price and if you could get it cheaper Buss would have more baby food and I would catch less hell from you know who.

Buy the whole works if you can. I need more guns like another bullet in my head but buy them if you can.

We really were sorry that we did not get to see you and you know there will always be a place for you in our home - no matter where we live. Yes, even Ravi Shandor.

Try to come see us when and if you get the chance. We have no moles and creepy, crawling things - Russ can't stand get.

If you do buy the guns
I can send you a money order, check or whatever. Just ship them to me and I will pay postage or you can pay postage and I will include it with the checks.

lots of love (again) from all three of us.

P.S. Write soon and tell me about the guns. You can assure the lady that my checks is recognized in certain small North La. banks.

Write soon!

to purchase one so if you can buy the rifle I would remember you in my will (the ha - what will?).

Seriously, I would pay up to 50 dollar but this is the catalogue price and I can buy them for this amount. Anyhow, buy the guns if you can but tell the lady I could not pay anything close fifty dollar. I am rather interested in the other weapon also. If they are in good, good condition offer her not more than 25[¢] ^(each) for them since the catalogue price is 20 to 35[¢] dollar for each. Well, I will give her up to one hundred or a hundred and twenty five dollar total for the weapons if she has more than three of the "Springfield" type. This is about we feel a price we could pay. I would offer you their price so you know this is no "make trading tooter". Buy the "Mississippi" or whatever it is for under fifty if you cannot buy the others.
Also love from all three of us.

Dear Ste.

Jack and I returned last night from our fabulous vacation. We were headed for lunch at Martin's, and received your letter. It really put us in the "dumps", and wish you could have been with us.

We tried calling offened last night, but no luck. He's working today, so I'll try again tonight. I'm not sure of his street number, so I'll have to check. I'm sure you know

Max (Mene's girl) is here for the summer.

Jack is registering for the summer, and should be back later in the evening.

He seemed rather interested in the guns, so I'm sure he'll have lots to add.

Quess is growing more everyday. He has a tooth on the bottom, and roots all over the apartment in his Walker. (No crayfish yet.)

Stu, are you coming back?
It really is lonely around here. Oh! Connie and Tom Hardin had a little girl

June 3rd, and named her Kimberly Jean.

I've close and lease the remaining space for "gun talk."

Stu, the rifle you told me about seems to be what was known as a "Mississippi Rifle" or "Geazer"; it might even be a "Zouave". The date on this gun should be 1841. If the rifle is in good condition and has not been sandblasted on the bronze or wood then it would be a nice addition to my "catch-all" collection.

Stu, if it had a 1841 date it would be worth about $50-75 depending on overall condition. I would pay from 35 to 50 dollars for this weapon - that in a straight price. The 1849 arm is not that valuable but it is a ~~the~~ great item if you do not have one - I have never had a chance
