Send on to Twins

My Darling,

Loved your letter - it sounds as though you are running + jumping at all times but loving it. So Jim is coming for the Alabama game - How great! - give him at least one kiss for me - if you can spare it. Am sitting in the den washing my left arm wound drape off - was vaccinated on Friday and am getting a 100% to take so guess I won't be dangling home a case of small pox.

Let me brief you in on our trip - I am getting so excited I could take off across the prairies to Alamo. We leave Love Field at 12:30 p.m. Oct. 18th - non stop to New York.
A few hours lay over + takes place + then Pan American non stop to Vienna. We have made all our plans thru Newman Marcus + they are great. We will stay at the Secher Hotel in Vienna which the travel agent girl says is small + charming and has one of the finest restaurants in Vienna. We will see the Spanish Dancers perform - the Lipensaw (sp) - also we will be there for the Strauss Festival which makes gay Vienna even gayed. We will be there three full days - then fly to Rome - spend six days - staying at the Hotel Eden - which Camilla Beall says is lovely - not expensive like the ~~expensive~~ but right in the heart of things.

Will see Betty Hardwick - Hughes who incidentally is moving to London as Mr Hughes spends more time there than in Rome. Then listen to this - we are on an excursion flight + it is cheaper to spend two weeks than one so we are booked to take the train - a three hour trip to Florence for three days. Can you believe it - imagine three hours of seeing the Italian country side. Then back to Rome and then fly back to New York. If we can get tickets for "Mamz" - we will stay over + come home next day. Is it not unreal?
I just know that something will happen that I won't make it - either I'll get the measles or start to menstruate or get worms.

your old lady has really been whirling the past week. First vaccinations then passports - then ² pictures (awful) - N. D.

+ I both don't look like we have a full brain between us. now listen - the two suits are finished + quite gorgeous: Plain - Plain - but smart smart - I just wish there was not so much of me to put in them.
But cannot at this point find suitable Houses. Could scream - Tomorrow will go to Wally Williams + mechanics. Am trying to keep my clothes to a minimum + coordinate everything. I started by cleaning my closet + giving almost everything to Mabel.
Let's face it the styles have just changed + I had so many things I'd worn for years that just were not - Would rather have four or five good looking things - than a bunch of nothing. I found a brighter than navy coat of nothings. # of neimans which fits me perfectly - plain plain 165⁰⁰ - (whee) - but think you'll love it. It is fairly heavy I will do beautifully over my kinks if it is cold. So I am fairly well organized wish I had your face to wear on the trip but don't think that can be arranged.
So you didn't pledge - O.K. You are the best judge of that + I go along with you.
You are right - a brand new chapter at this time like Kappa could be so time consuming you could flunk out. Do what makes you happy & Darling - after all - all I want is that for all my toads. How I miss you all - I'm not sloppy about it but I do love you all so dearly that it is difficult at times to be without you. But so the cookie crumbles. Guess I'm not the best mother in the world but good golly how I love you all. Enough of that sloppy emotioning.

Emmys show on Sunday was beautiful & I was one of her hostesses from 2 till six - The first & second pictures to sell were you & Scott. It gave me a funny feeling - would love to have had both. but of course I could not.

Now Darling lets get down to the cutting
- your Oct. check. Will send in this letter your father's new address. It looks to me like you will have to write him to send it to you as I'll be gone. He must have taught a house the h - - - - I won't be here to deposit it - What shall we do? If it comes by the 15th I send as I did last month - What are your suggestions? Please write me at once so I know what to do.

I love you,

Wanda -
