

Kay Finch

- 2 -

Then, to see your fabulous interpretations of their life in paintings was like deja vu.

If the Mexico ^{bug} bites, it bites hard, doesn't it! Layers & layers to discover.

We are so focused on our culture that we miss the enrichment of knowing how other people have lived their journey.

Many thanks, my great respect, and ¡ Buena suerte!

Kay Finch

Saturday
January 12, 1991

Dear Stuart,

What an unexpected, thrilling gift you gave me Thursday night with your presentation on the Aztec civilization and your lovely "Birds of Texas"!

I graduated in 1970 with my degree in Spanish. My professor had saturated us with the Aztec's history.

For my ears to hear Quetzalcoatl (?) & Xuitzilopochtli & all the other words you pronounce so well was like a symphony of glorious music!