

June 15, 2001

Mr. Stuart Gentling
4801 Harley St.
Fort Worth, TX 76107

Dear Mr. Gentling:

My name is Meseret Taye. I work in the Conservation Science Program of World Wildlife Fund. The chief scientist of WWF by the name of Eric Dinerstein, who is also my boss, has just finished a book on the conservation of rhinoceros in Nepal, which would be published by Columbia University Press soon. The image that we would like to use for the cover of his book is an artwork of rhinos in the wild that was done by you and Ms. Nancy Ferguson in May of 1990. It is entitled "One Horn One World", and is a poster size image, which was dedicated for the partnership of World wide conservation organizations for the conservation of the Greater One Horned Rhinoceros. The organizations that were involved in this effort were Forth Worth Zoo, The King Mahendra Trust for Nature Conservation in Nepal, Nepal Department of Parks and Wildlife, as well as World Wildlife Fund. I am sending you this letter to inquire if you would know who owns the copyright for this image and if there is any other information that you could give me in regards to this image. If you own the copyright, I would very much appreciate it, if you could tell me the process of acquiring a copyright permission from you, and also if you have any charge for processing it. I have left you a phone message at home, and I am going to try and call you again. If you would like to contact me, please call me at (202) 778 -9725 or by e-mail at meseret.taye@wwfus.org. I have enclosed a copy of the image with this letter.

I would like to thank you for your help in this matter.

Sincerely,

Meseret Taye
Conservation Science Program
World Wildlife Fund US

World Wildlife Fund

1250 Twenty-Fourth St., NW Washington, DC 20037-1132 USA

Tel: (202) 293-4800 Fax: (202) 293-9211

www.worldwildlife.org

Affiliated with World Wide Fund for Nature

Processed Chlorine-Free Recycled Paper

The Return of the Unicorns

by Eric Dinerstein
Chief Scientist
World Wildlife Fund-US

(202) 778 - 9616