Subject: Portrait for the Secretary of the Navy

The Honorable Gordon England, Secretary of the Navy, is in the process of considering several artists for his formal portrait since he will be leaving this position in the near future (late Jan-Feb). As a fellow Texan, he heard that Scott Gentling had painted the official portrait for then Gov. Bush, and Secretary England is interested in seeing some of his work and possibly having his official portrait done by him as well. Would it be possible to have some examples sent to us at your earliest convenience to include in our consideration?

Thank you,

LCDR Paul Tortora
Deputy Executive Assistant and Naval Aide
Office of the Secretary of the Navy
