Dear Stuart and Scott:

I am back from Costa Rica and my delightful trip to Fort Worth.
First of all thank you so much for the book and the set of prints that you gave us.

Linda is thinking in redoing the decoration of our library at home to make a special place to hang all of them.

They are incredible.

I meet once a month with a very good friend of mine who was the Chairman of my Fund for several years and he is also a very dedicated birdwatcher (Andres Marcelo Sada) and I showed him the book and the prints and he was also very impressed with your work.

I am working on an idea to make good use of your talent for conservation in México and soon you will hear from me again.

Tonight I am flying to México City and will take pictures of some of the archeological pieces of my dad's collection for you to see.

He has also a large amount of Códices (I believe that is the name in English as well) but the bad news is that he is selling and giving everything away because he feels no one from the family is interested in them. I will try to convince him otherwise or at least tell him to delay his decision until a time when I can find a good place for them.

How are things going in Forth Worth? I hope well.

Take care and keep on painting, I hope to see you soon.

Un abrazo

Linda y Lorenzo Rosenzweig
