

Aunt's Dear Country you are

Oct 17, 2006

Dear Scott,

You really are dear Scott.

We never know on any given day...

There is solace in knowing that you were a good and loving brother to Stuart. He knew full well that you loved him. You should have no regrets.

The grief in losing someone is sometimes overwhelming but the difficult task is conquering the habit pattern change without them. You will overcome! Know that I am thinking about you will love and always will. Family Rothschil
