

Kimbell Art Museum, Fort Worth, constructed 1969–72
View of southwest corner and the park Louis I. Kahn, 1901–1974, architect © 2008 Kimbell Art Museum
Photo: Robert LaPelle

better acquainted. He is super talented and a really thoughtful, lovely person as well. I hope someday you'll be able to see more of the depth and breadth of his work. He lives and works in Fort Worth and I get the impression that he may be reaching out to other artists in the area. Maybe that's a good thing.

It was a treat for me to tag along on the tour. Your portrait of Ruth Carter Stevenson is absolutely brilliant.
Once again I was reminded of your amazing gifts. With deepest thanks Caine

June 28, 2010

Dear Scott,

Thank you for giving such an informative tour of your gallery and work for Sedrick Huchaby and his wife Lehtia on June 19th. It was incredibly generous of you to do so, especially when you were working on a deadline.
For selfish reasons, I'm glad that you + Sedrick became a little