

Big Bend National Park, Texas

Pico Del Carmen

El Pico in the Sierra Del Carmen range gathers summer thunderstorms around its 6000 foot summit. Although they are actually in Mexico, the white limestone cliffs form one of the most familiar vistas in Big Bend National Park. The escarpment marks the east side of a geologic sunken block; the Terlingua Fault marks its western boundary.

© 2007 James H. Evans

Fine prints available

P.O. Box 436

Marathon, Texas 79842

(432)-386-4366

www.jameshevens.com

All Good Wishes for the New Year

Katharine & Ben Love

ALLEN TX 76017

10 JAN 2011 PM 5 L

from Kathryn Armstrong & husband

Mr. Scott Gentling
4801 Harley Ave
Fort Worth, TX
76107

76107+3715

Persimmon Gap Ranch
Marathon, Texas 79842

