Dear Ralph, Scott and Stuart,

It was a real pleasure to see you at my house this morning. Needless to say, the possibility of a Gentling portrait of my father and my son, together with me, is something about which I am really excited. You guys are living legends and it is fun to be with you and I am thrilled about the portrait.

As I said, if you will keep little notes and pictures, etc. in a stack, I will prepare two very nicely done and bound books - one for you and one for me, which will document the process of the making of this portrait together with other interesting information about you and some of you other work and whatever we think is fun.

Anyway, the Crow family is grateful to you for your many kindness to us, and I will look forward to seeing what I know will be an exciting result.

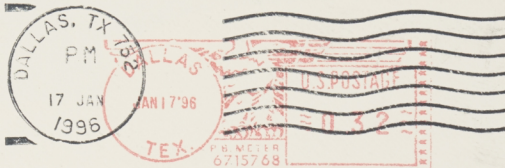

Sincerely,

Harlan Crow
