Dear Mr. Carr:

A couple of years ago, with your help, the Gentlings produced a fine watercolor of my father, my son and myself, which we have hanging in our office.

My wife, Kathy, and I now have another son and would like to find out if the Gentlings would consider doing another one which would be of my two boys, ages one and four, my wife and myself. We are not in any hurry to have this done and, in fact, probably would not want to start until later this year but would like to find out if we can get a commitment from the Gentlings to produce such a work and wonder if they would be interested in doing it.

Would you give this some thought and let me know at your convenience?

Sincerely,

Harlan Crow
Chief Executive Officer
