Dear

On Saturday, April 17th, Scott and Stuart Gentling and I are going to have a small reception at the Gentling Studio at 4928 Bryce Avenue. Scott and Stuart are celebrating a special exhibition and sale of new watercolors and giclee prints of their landscapes, still lifes, and portraits as well as recent paintings of Texas birds.

Last November we held a housewarming for friends and patrons. Nearly 400 people attended, filling both the house and the new peristyle garden. That event, however, was a party only; no art was offered for sale. It was the largest display of Gentling work since the Kimball Art Museum's exhibit of their Bass Performance Hall designs in 1998.

Although the Gentlings have been associated with the Gerald Peters Gallery in Santa Fe for several years, they will always consider Fort Worth their home. With this small reception and sale - only sixty guests are invited - the Gentlings hope to begin an annual Spring tradition. Unlike previous shows a number of smaller works and studies will be offered for sale. Also, in keeping with the political season, we will be displaying Scott's portraits of President Bush and two landscapes of their Prairie Chapel Ranch at Crawford, Texas commissioned by President and Mrs. Bush to hang in the White House.

Sincerely,

Ralph Carr
