Dear Stuart:

We are shipping two prints to you today for your approval. The invoice will be included with the prints.

Thanks for the prompt approval of the last shipment for which we received a check today.

This shipment is small, but it only means we are nearing the end of the color work. Next the letterpress work will commence. I hope that goes off as smoothly as the bird prints. That will mean an earlier completion than we ever could have planned for.

Happily optimistic,

David Holman
