Dear Stuart:

Just a note to remind you of the various promises that you have made to me and/or other members of my staff (apparently). I understand from Evelyn Stehling that you have agreed to consign one of the bird portfolios to us and that you require that you net 75% of the retail price of $2500 (according to my math that comes to $1875).

In a previous conversation with me, you also hastily agreed to remark a title page as a contribution to the auction. If you could send that to me as soon as possible we would be able, as I mentioned, to illustrate it in the auction catalogue.

Needless to say, you are generous to a fault and we are extremely grateful for both your largesse and your concern for our Texas heritage. Best wishes.

Sincerely yours,

Rm
