Dear Scott and Stuart Gentling,

Thank you so much for allowing us to use your beautiful prints for our newsletter. We have already received many comments about the newsletter thanks in part to the eye-catching image of the Roseate Spoonbill.

Our Director of Communications, Pamela McCroskery spoke with Stuart recently, mentioning our upcoming 100-year anniversary. We are planning on having events throughout the state, including a reception at the Bass Concert Hall in Fort Worth on March 6th. I understand that you both had a hand in the artwork that adorns the hall. We are in hopes of possibly having some artwork on display and maybe even a traveling show. Any suggestions or assistance in regard to this venture will be appreciated. Please be sure to mark your calendars, as we would love for you both to attend this important event.

We look forward to using the image "House Wrens" depicting the birds on cowboy boots. We felt the image conveyed Texas birding perfectly. Either Pamela McCroskery or Anne Murdock, our Development Director, will be in touch in the not too distant future for your input.

Again, I want to express my utmost appreciation to you both for your generosity and I look forward to meeting you both soon.

Sincerely,

Catriona Glazebrook
Executive Director
