

- Morning -

The Old-man Crow has been brought in from the Prairie where Songre (45⁵⁰ yrs old) has left him. Outside the house sitting under the arbor ~~are~~ are relatives and friends. There are Songre's wife and another woman, Songre's son and his friend and the five Old men, old timers like the dying man, Crow. They are waiting for the body - to bury it in the old ways since Crow was not a Christian. The old men are Christians and yet they see nothing wrong with burying Crow in the old way, in fact they will demand it. Inside the house with

to the door and motions to Songus Squaw and Son to come into the house.
Then he tells him that the old man has expired.
The Squaw breathes that Songus was not there to see the old man die. The doctor asks when and the events of the night before are related to him. (The old man of the shield works only for the man who carried it.

Songu grabs the shield and defies them. The old man
