the Topy-Turey

In that last week of summer I for remember that both Scott and I looked ~~forward~~ ahead to our first extended time away from each other with a strange combination of eager anticipation and dread. I had a good idea what awaited me upon my return to New Orleans. But Scott was sitting forth upon an unknown world. He had never even been to Philadelphia, and therefore had never set foot in the Academy. He knew no one in the city.
