Dear Scott,

I've enclosed a list of the illustration captions for the book provided as part of the galley proof by the publisher. I wanted you to see that your name and David Wharton's were included as you wished. You've been so kind, there was no way I was going to let your proper recognition slip between the cracks. The owner of the company editing the book oohed and ahed over the illustrations!

Were just finishing the maps.
I'll send you a set. Do you have Ron Hauge's book on Aztec Warfare? It's a wonderful source, but his maps are very difficult to follow and overly complex. I've done a map of the city center of Tenochtitlan around the Teocalli, the details of which I have taken from your photos (which I will credit).

Any news on Werner Herzog's movie project? I'm keeping my fingers crossed.

Sincerely yours

Pete
